Salt Mackerel Headed Up

The Fishing Gazette says:
New shore mackerel has undergone a raise of $1 in the market quotations. From $12 to $13 the new figures are $14 to $15. Cape Shore new mackerel has gone to $13 to $14 rather than $12 to $13, as heretofore.

"We are getting out a new list on salt mackerel," said a representative of one of the trade's largest houses. "It will be ready for distribution very soon. We have decided to go up $1 a barrel anyway, and there is every indication that we will go up $2."

Installing Engines.

Sch. Matthew S. Greer is having two 50 horsepower automatic engines installed.

BIG SHARE FOR RELIANCE MEN

To Capt. John Nelson in sch. Reliance belongs the honor of having made the largest share in swordfishing this summer. In 19 days the little vessel stocked $1423.18 from which the crew of six men shared $163.88 each. This is equivalent to making $8.60 per day and is certainly good fishing.

LARGE FLEET AT NEW PIER

Groundfish Are Low But Mackerel and Swords Hold Up Well.

Boston arrival list this morning was also large, several of the fresh drifters, and others of the off shore fleet arriving yesterday afternoon and during the night. The market was off on groundfish today as a result of which many of the fare will be sent to the splitters.

Mackerel held up well, two fares small fish selling at $7.50 to $7.60 hundred pounds, a good advance yesterday. Swordfish brought cents and 12 cents a pound.

Wholesalers quoted $1.25 a hundred for haddock, $4 for large and $1.15 market cod, $2.50 to $4.50 for hake $1.25 for pollock.

NEWFOUNDLAND FISH SITUATION

The fishery situation has not changed very much since we last wrote, the St. John's Trade Review says. A few places North have picked up a trifle during the week, but in most places there has been nothing doing. We summarize the position thus. From Baccalieu South and West, the shore voyage is slightly better than it was last year, while from Baccalieu North, it is slightly better than it was last year, while from Baccalieu North, it is very much smaller. The Bank fishery will also be larger than it was last year, but the lobster fishery will be much smaller. The Northern fishermen are hopeful of doing better during the squid scull, which is due to open next week.

Labrador Fishery.

Thus far for the shore fishery; but when we come to the Labrador fishery, we may put it down at this writing, at any rate, as the worst for 20 years. We are speaking now of the stationers' section on the upper part of the coast. There appears to be a good deal of fish about, but moving clumpers of ice make it impossible to put twine in the water, and in many places traps have been taken ashore in disgust. A number of north bound floaters are held up along the shore, but a number have also got down outside, and may be getting good catches of fish for all we know. The one saving factor in the situation is that the fair voyages of fish have been killed on the Labrador at a later date than this.

Price of Fish.

A few small lots have been coming into the city from the near out-ports during the week, but there is none coming along in schooners. The price given today for the lots mentioned is $7.25 to $7.30, talqual. There is not very much cured to the southward and westward yet, but holders do not appear to be anxious to sell what is available. Fishermen are better off than they used to be in old times, and they are willing to wait till the St. John's agent comes round to buy instead of rushing their product to the city market. Most fishermen who write us have the idea that, in view of possible short catch, they will get better prices later on.

The following is the list of district catches of codfish for the present season and last season, received by the Board of Trade up to the beginning of the week:

FAIR RECEIPTS AT PENSACOLA

The week ending Aug. 2, was only a fair one for the 14 fishing crafts that visited the Campeche banks in search of red snapper and grouper. Seven vessels went out for the Warren Fish Co., and all got back to port with catches varying from 3445 lbs. to 27,265 lbs. It is fair to say that both the largest and the smallest fares were to the credit of E. E. Saunders & Co., though that firm did not have the biggest total, that falling to the Warren Fish Co.

The Warren Fish Co. had a total of 74,425 lbs. of red snapper, against 70,575 lbs. to E. E. Saunders & Co. The Warren boats had 33,770 lbs. of grouper, while the Saunders boats had only 32,620 lbs.. The total catch of fish by the 14 vessels was 211,330 lbs. of which the Warren Fish Co. had 108,195 lbs. and Saunders & Co. 103,195 lbs.. The biggest haul made by a vessel of the Warren fleet was 22,205 lbs and the smallest fare 5440 lbs.

The catches were as follows:

Warren Fish Co.: Ariola, 10,875 lbs. red snapper, 6315 lbs. grouper; Amy Wixon, 13,085 lbs. red snapper, 7860 lbs. grouper; Chicopee, 11,600 lbs. red snapper, 2600 lbs. grouper; Alcoma, 10,800 lbs. red snapper, 6375 lbs. grouper; Galatea, 4235 lbs. red snapper, 1145 lbs. grouper; Silas Stearns, 7600 lbs. red snapper, 5800 lbs. grouper; Mineola, 11,140 lbs. red snapper, 3675 lbs. grouper.

E. E. Saunders & Co.: Favorite, 10,565 lbs. red snapper, 2665 lbs. grouper; Lettie G. Howard, 5570 lbs. red snapper, 2955 lbs. grouper; Owl, 2995 lbs. red snapper, 450 pounds grouper; Wallace McDonald, 10,500 pounds red snapper, 2180 pounds grouper; Louisa F. Harper, 12,040 lbs. snapper, 2200 lbs. grouper; Emelia Enos, 16,935 lbs. red snapper, 10,330 lbs. grouper; Priscilla, 11,970 lbs. red snapper, 1540 lbs. grouper.

THREE CRAFTS NOW BUILDING

Things have commenced to look up a little in the ship building line at Essex, at the present time there being three crafts on the stocks which are being pushed to completion.

At Arthur D. Story's yards, the handsome craft for Capt. John Hickcy, formerly of the mackerel sch. Terranova, and now in command of sch. Romance, is nearly all planked in and will be ready in a few weeks. She has been named the Reading.

Mr. Story has also contracted with Capt. Felix Hogan and George Nelson for a new vessel now building. She will be much after the lines of sch. Elk, only a trifle larger, measuring 130 tons, or five tons more than the Elk. The craft will be commanded by Capt. Hogan, at present skipper of the Elk.

James & Son have the frame work nearly complete for the new craft, building for Capt. Bob Wharton of sch. Yakima. Her lines indicate that she will be one of the most handsome sailers of the local fleet.

FULTON MARKET SHORT OF STOCK

Receipts up to noon on Thursday were 538,000 pounds of fish, as against 887,820 pounds received the preceding week up to noon on Friday. Nearly 50 per cent. of the receipts this week were made up of mixed fish, the total being 228,400 pounds, as against 249,920 pounds during the previous week. Seven smacks landed mixed fish this week.

Bluefish receipts this week numbered 36,500 pounds, which, at an average weight of five pounds each, made a total of 181,500 pounds. There were 13 trips, while last week the crafts in 24 trips landed 77,420 fish, or a total of 387,100 pounds. The largest single haul of bluefish this week was 4800 fish. Three of the 13 vessels landed less than 400 fish each, seven landed less than 3000 fish each, while two arrivals on Wednesday brought only 500 bluefish each.

Wednesday dealers were compelled to call on the freezers in order to obtain sufficient stock to fill orders.

The same state of affairs continued on Thursday, when all fresh stock was cleaned out by 9 a. m.

There was little stock in the market on Friday, and stands were washing down at 9 a. m.

As will be noted in the table of prices, bluefish were very scarce and high in price during the latter part of the week; in fact, there were few bluefish any day but Monday.

All varieties of fish were scarce during the latter part of the week.

Codfish—Market, 2 to 4 cents; steak 5 to 11 cents; haddock, 1½ to 5 cents; hake, 2 to 4 cents; pollock, 2 to 5 cents.

There was little good halibut in the market. Eastern stock brought 10 to 15 cents and Western white fish 6 to 10 cents.

Tinker mackerel brought $5 to $8 per barrel and medium fish 8 to 14 cts.

The Catch.

Fresh mackerel receipts last week amounted to 2397 barrels fresh and 628 barrels salted. Same week in 1913, 596 barrels were brought in fresh and 123 barrels salted.

The mackerel catch as a whole is far in excess of this time last year. The total catch of salt mackerel to date is 9721 barrels against 2395 barrels last year, while fresh receipts are 57,605 barrels as compared with 30,818 barrels in 1913.

Fresh mackerel imports to Boston total 5919 barrels while salted imports amount to 4201 barrels. In 1913, 2394 barrels of salt and 9759 barrels were landed.

Porto Rico Fish Market.

Business depression in general, high prices and the usual dullness at this time of the year, deter our importing houses from buying except for what is most actually needed. Sales of spot goods (codfish) have been effected in the neighborhood of $35.25 per cask and for shipment at less.

There is no improvement on pollock and haddock, and we are afraid that this stagnant condition of our markets may cause the deterioration of stocks. We quote these descriptions of fish at about $22.50 per cask, on usual basis, net ex wharf.—S. Ramirez & Co.

BEAM TRAWLER ASHORE IN FO

Steamer Long Island, one of fleet of beam trawlers, formerly a y. steamer, went ashore early yesterday morning on the northeast. Nix Mate, Boston Harbor, which was bound from the fishing grounds, was stranded, but as she was in immediate danger, the assistance of tug was not needed. She floated with the rising tide.

Big Week's Work.

Sch. Thalia, Capt. Percy Fifth, her last fresh drifting trip which ended only one week stocked $1099.40, the high line share was $50.65, cook's share was $83. The Thalia one of the Gorton-Pew Fisheries Company fleet.

Halibut Sales.

The halibut fare of sch. Kineo to the New England Fish Co. for per pound for white and 11c for The fare of schs. Teazer and The S. Gorton sold to the American Fish Co. for 10c right through.

Landings at New Pier.

At Boston last week, 2,350 pounds of fresh groundfish from arrivals were landed as compared with 1,738,180 pounds from 58 arrivals for the corresponding week last year.

Among the Skippers.

Capt. Norman Ross is fitting Francis J. O'Hara, Jr., for sch. Capt. James McLean is fitting Squanto for seling. Capt. William Bissert has fitted Clintonia for seling. Capt. Christopher Gibbs has sch. Harmony for halibuting.

Good Newfoundland Report.

By the Portia we learn that at St. John's, Peters River, good work done with the fish during the school and to date fishermen in section have from 100 to 400 qtls. der salt. They are now taking their traps. Dogfish is already ing a great pest in St. Mary's. Trepassy does not show up as as last year and the trap fishery is pronounced to be a failure. Al maline they have had the best fish for years and traps have ashore 300 to 400 qtls. All the Golden fleet loaded the past month and secured from 150 to 300 qtls. At St. Mary's very little has been the past week. Hook and line round hope for a favorable change the fishery with the appearance squid.—St. John's Herald, August 11.

Bay of Islands Notes.

Four men of Lark Harbor 10 qtls. cod one afternoon last. The sch. James A. Garfield, Capt. Butler, returned to Woods Island Friday from a collecting trip to St. George and Codroy, having board about 180,000 pounds of bulk codfish for the Gorton-Pew Fisheries Co.

AGNES COLLIDED WITH AN ICEBERG

According to the St. John's, N. F. Herald, sch. Agnes, Capt. Downes, one of the flitted halibutiers of this port arrived a week ago yesterday from Harbor Grace.

The Agnes collided with an iceberg, it appears and at Harbor Grace where she went for repairs, she was surveyed by a diver sent over by Mh. Piccott, Minister of Marine and Fisheries. The craft made repairs, but the crew claimed salvage for pumping her and bringing her in and Consul Benedict ordered her to St. John's.

The difficulty has been satisfactorily settled and the craft resumed her trip last Tuesday.

Salt Fish Market Firm

Says the Fishing Gazette: The salt fish market shows no noticeable fluctuations. A moderate demand for mackerel is recorded, but only enough is acquired by buyers for immediate needs. The market is closing steady. The demand for herring is seasonably slow and prices were nominal. The supply of codfish is light though the demand for it is steady, hence the market is firm.

Uncertainty as to future supplies from Europe has strengthened the tone of the salt fish market and quite noticeably as the week draws to its end, and hostilities among all the powers have become an accomplished fact. A good deal of inquiry is being made, but it has not precipitated any actual business as yet, and quotations as a consequence are rated no higher.

"The entire salt fish market is firm, with an upward tendency. Stocks are very much depleted on account of the European war. It is almost impossible to know whether new stocks have come forward for some time." That was the summary of the general trade situation in New York as given by an executive of one of its leading fish houses this week. "If hostilities don't stop, the damage will be extensive. They ought to be stopped," he concluded.

"What's the use of quoting prices," said a leading salt fish merchant of New York last Thursday. "There is no market. There is no stability nor reason among the dealers. Prices are changing with every hour. We can get exorbitant prices for some goods right now in August, but what are we to do in August when we have goods to sell? Then what are we to do in the months that are to follow? I prefer a healthy uniformity for my part. If people want the stuff now they have got to pay prices."

"We are listing new prices on codfish, and representative of one of the city's largest codfish houses. "Of course the tendency of the new prices is decidedly upward," he concluded.

War Helps Fresh Fish- Trade.

"It's an ill wind that blows nobody good, the old saying is. Even the European war, a dire calamity to almost everything and everybody, is productive of some good, for according to wholesale dealers at the Boston Fish Pier, it has increased the demand for fresh fish of all kinds, and so increased their business. The fact that meats, flour and other commodities are rapidly rising in price is in no small way responsible for the increase in the demand for fresh fish, which just at present is exceptionally plentiful and is selling cheap.

"As long as good fishing weather continues, and our vessels have any luck", said one of the dealers at the new pier, yesterday morning, "the war in Europe will have little effect on the price of fish, and the retail purchaser should be able to buy seafoods as cheaply as usual. So long as the demand keeps up with the supply there is no reason for any increase in the price of food fish, and I don't believe there will be any. Mackerel for example, are today selling at wholesale at seven cents a pound for the small size. There are about two fish to a pound, and one fish is meal enough for a person with an average appetite. Haddock is wholesaling at two and one-half cents a pound, and market cod at three cents. Similar prices, indeed slightly higher prices, prevailed before the present great war broke out.

"I foresee excellent results for the fish business in this war. The increase of cost of other foods is bound to direct the attention of this country to fish, so long neglected here as an article of diet. So long as fish remains cheap—and I am confident it will—it will keep the attention of the public. Already, although the war has just begun, there is a big demand for fish, because of the fact that it is cheap, healthful and satisfying. And this is bound to grow."
